About Valiente Resources

Valiente Resources Inc. is a newly established Lundin Group exploration company focused on unlocking the copper-gold potential of its 100%-owned Valle Ancho Project, a district-scale exploration opportunity spanning the Argentina–Chile border. Strategically including part of the highly prospective Maricunga Gold Belt, Valle Ancho represents an emerging copper-gold opportunity with characteristics reminiscent of the Vicuña District in its early stages of development.

Beyond advancing Valle Ancho, Valiente intends to pursue a disciplined growth strategy, seeking to build a portfolio of highly prospective exploration assets through selective and opportunistic acquisitions. Initially leveraging its experience and expertise in Argentina and Chile, the Company aims to capitalise on emerging opportunities and will focus on creating value through successful exploration.
